2025-2026

Introduction to this Form & the Review Process

Most unmarried students under the age of 24 are required to provide parental data on their Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and are considered dependent students. However, students who are:

- unaccompanied and experiencing homelessness or
- unaccompanied, self-supporting, and at risk of experiencing homelessness

may be exempt from this requirement and can be eligible for financial aid as an independent student. As an independent student, parental data will not be required on your FAFSA.

Please read through the entire form to understand which sections should be completed related to your circumstances.

To help us determine your self-reported independent status, please complete this form and either:

- submit the requested supporting documentation OR
- complete an interview with a member of our team or submit a signed personal statement describing your circumstances.

Our team will review your circumstances and determine if you meet the qualifications to be deemed an independent student for financial aid purposes. In the case that additional information or documentation is needed, we may contact you or those you indicate on this form.

Throughout this process, all your submitted documentation and information will be kept confidential.

Additional Information & Definitions

The Higher Education Act (HEA) uses the McKinney-Vento Act's definition of "homeless," which includes youth who lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence; and the McKinney-Vento Act's definition of "unaccompanied," which includes youth not in the physical custody of a parent or guardian. This definition is broader than shelters or the streets; it includes staying with others temporarily due to loss of housing, economic hardship, or a similar reason, and staying in motels due to lack of adequate alternative accommodations. The U.S. Department of Education (ED) defines the term "at-risk of homelessness" to refer to students whose housing may cease to be fixed, regular, and adequate.

- Unaccompanied—when a student is not living in the physical custody of a parent or guardian
- Homeless—lacking fixed, regular, and adequate housing
- At risk of being homeless—when a student's housing may cease to be fixed, regular, and adequate, for example, a student who is being evicted or has been asked to leave their current residence and has been unable to find fixed, regular, and adequate housing
- Self-supporting—when a student pays for his or her own living expenses, which includes paying for fixed, regular, and adequate housing

Regardless of their age, applicants who are unaccompanied and homeless, or self-supporting and at risk of being homeless, qualify for a homeless youth determination and will be considered independent students on the FAFSA® form.
